About this Course

Successful completion of this course results in nationally recognised Unit of Competency CPCWHS1001 - Prepare to work safely in the construction industry. Successful candidates will also receive a Statement of Training (SOT) CPCWHS1001 Prepare to work safely in the construction industry and a General Induction Training Card ("White Card") by SafeWork NSW.

This unit of competency specifies the mandatory work health and safety training required prior to undertaking construction work.

As per the SafeWork NSW website;

A white card (or general construction induction card) is required for workers who want to carry out "construction work" as defined in the legislation.

People who need a white card include:

- site managers, supervisors, surveyors, labourers and tradespeople
- people who access operational construction zones (unaccompanied or not directly supervised by an inducted person)
- workers whose employment causes them to routinely enter operational construction zones.

The unit requires the person to demonstrate personal awareness and knowledge of health and safety legislative requirements in order to work safely and prevent injury or harm to self and others.

It covers identifying and orally reporting common construction hazards, understanding basic risk control measures, and identifying procedures for responding to potential incidents and emergencies.

It also covers correctly selecting and fitting common personal protective equipment (PPE) used for construction work.

RE ASSESSMENT, COMPLAINTS AND APPEALS

Our trainers have the experiences, abilities and training to effectively assist you in your course by providing well designed training and assessment. During your training you will receive feedback about your performance including suggestions where required. You will also be informed if you are doing exceptionally well!

During training if you or your trainer feels that you require additional support, then there are options to assist you, i.e. extended duration of your course.

After assessment, should your trainer feel that after training you still require further training (due to results of the assessments in your course) or you need to be reassessed (assessment is completed during training) you will be informed of your options.

If you fail your assessment, reassessment fees and minimum waiting times also apply to reassessment. We have an effective appeals procedure, which you can find on our website, if you dispute the assessor's findings.

If you have a complaint about the course, our trainer/ assessors or anything else, then we also have an effective complaints procedure, which can also be viewed on our website.
